

Subscription-type Package Tours - Travel Conditions

(Summary given below)

●Subscription-type Package Tour Contract

This package tour is planned and implemented by Izuhakone Bus Co., Ltd. (hereafter referred as “the Company”), and the participants concludes a subscription-type package tour agreement with the Company.

The travel conditions are based on the following contents, as well as the separately provided Travel Conditions (full text) and the subscription-type package tour section of the Company’s travel service provisions. If there is any discrepancy between the following travel conditions and the separately provided Travel Conditions, the following conditions will apply.

●Tour application and timing when the tour agreement becomes effective

Applications can be made at the Company by filling in the necessary items in the Company’s prescribed tour application form and paying the tour charge. The tour agreement will become effective once the Company consents to conclusion of the agreement and receives the tour payment. There are cases where the Company accepts the tour application on the condition that “payment of the tour charge, cancellation fee, etc. is received without the member’s signature” (hereafter referred as “Communication Contract”) from the member of a credit card company with which the Company has a business tie-up (hereafter referred as “Partner Company”). Travel conditions in the case of a Communication Contract differ from general travel conditions in terms of the following points.

(1)The “Date of card use” mentioned in this clause refers to the date on which the member and the Company fulfill their obligations to pay or refund the tour charge, etc. based on the tour agreement.

(2)When making an application, please notify the Company of your “membership number (credit card number)”, “card expiration date”, etc.

(3)In the case where the Company gives notification of conclusion of a Communication Contract by telephone or postal mail, the Communication Contract shall become effective when the Company issues the said notification. In the case where the Company sends Electronic Acceptance Notice through e-mail etc., the agreement shall become effective when the notification reaches the customer.

●Things included in the tour charge

Fares and charges of the transport agency specified in the tour schedule are included. In principle, such expenses will not be refunded, even if the customer does not use any of the services due to their own circumstances.

●When making an application, please do so upon first receiving the Travel Conditions document (full text) and confirming the contents.
